CHICAGO--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Feb. 18, 2021-- Allscripts Healthcare Solutions, Inc. (Nasdaq:MDRX) recently hosted Mr. Reuven Rivlin, President of Israel, and the Mayor of Beer Sheva, Mr. Ruvik Danilovich, at its office in Beer Sheva, Israel. The two, along with Allscripts leadership, discussed how Allscripts interoperability solution, dbMotion, connects all clinical venues in Israel, as well as the impact the solution has had during the pandemic. With 30 health organizations across the country connected to a nationwide network, epidemiologic research capabilities immensely improved, enabling the Ministry of Health and the hospitals to better cope with the crisis. The President visited after he spent time at the Soroka Hospital in Beer Sheva, where dbMotion was first implemented.

During the event, Nir Weiss, Allscripts Director, International Professional Services, and Gabi Joffe, Allscripts Israel Site Leader, presented the successes healthcare organizations have had with the solution in the country and the specific developments and dashboards Allscripts introduced specifically for COVID-19 tracking. Leaders in the Israel office shared their personal experiences as well, including their motivation for working in healthcare, what Allscripts has accomplished in Beer Sheva specifically, and how the company strives to be inclusive and culturally aware of all populations.

The fact that you are located in the Capital of the Negev is yet another expression of that Israeli spirit – a spirit harnessing professionalism and innovation for our national goals,” said President Reuven Rivlin.

“It was a true honor to welcome President Reuven Rivlin and Mayor Ruvik Danilovich to the Allscripts office in Beer Sheva,” said Paul Black, Allscripts Chief Executive Officer. “We were pleased to have the opportunity to share the work Allscripts is doing to collect, integrate and display information for tracking and learning about COVID-19.
