

Central Utah Medical Clinic Selects Allscripts and IDX Integrated Solution

February 12, 2002

CUMC Anticipates 'Maximum Benefit with Minimal Disruption' to Existing Workflow Practices

Allscripts Healthcare Solutions (Nasdaq: MDRX), the leading provider of point-of-care decision support tools for physicians, and IDX Systems Corporation (Nasdaq: IDXC) announced today that Central Utah Medical Clinic (CUMC) has selected TouchWorks(TM) clinical applications and the IDX GPMS(TM) (Group Practice Management System) for their physician practice.

CUMC will implement the GPMS application and the full suite of TouchWorks solutions using a modular deployment strategy. The first phase, targeted for completion in April, will include the full GPMS application as well as the TouchWorks dictation, document management, and clinical result modules. CUMC selected these three TouchWorks modules to quickly streamline their transcription process, which they expect will facilitate physician adoption. In summer of 2002, CUMC will add TouchWorks modules for e-prescribing, capturing charges, and automated order entry.

"The simplicity of the IDX practice management system combined with the Allscripts modular approach enables our physicians to gain maximum benefit with minimal disruption," stated Scott Barlow, Chief Executive Officer of Central Utah Medical Clinic. "Since we've decided to implement GPMS simultaneously with the TouchWorks suite of clinical solutions, the ability to choose which modules to implement and when to implement them was an important factor for us."

The integration of TouchWorks and GPMS drives operational improvements by more directly linking clinical and financial activities. For example, using a handheld device, doctors and nurses can enter patient encounter related information at the point of care using TouchWorks Charge(TM) and then submit this data wirelessly to the GPMS software -- a more efficient process that ensures accuracy and speeds reimbursement.

"By working together with IDX development teams, Allscripts links TouchWorks technology to IDX practice management systems, providing a more seamless integration than a standard interface," noted Glen Tullman, Chief Executive Officer of Allscripts Healthcare Solutions. "This deep integration of TouchWorks with GPMS makes a transition to an electronic medical record easy for physicians to adopt."

IDX GPMS streamlines patient flow and business processes including scheduling, billing and accounts receivable, referral management, and relational reporting functionality for the group practice marketplace. CUMC expects to improve claims collection, ease compliance with proposed government coding regulations, and create a seamless, patient-centric environment for its network of primary and specialty care physicians.

"The GPMS and TouchWorks implementation will provide CUMC with more efficient workflow and tighter integration of clinical, administrative and financial processes which can drive improved patient satisfaction and enhanced financial performance," said Richard Tarrant, Chief Executive Officer of IDX. "This is a great example of the continued strength of the partnership between Allscripts and IDX and how together we continue providing a combined solution that can drive real value in this marketplace."
